Pace and Pause Experiment - Practice worksheet

Compare one short sentence spoken or read at two chosen speeds; use text-only comparison if speaking is uncomfortable.

Adults; supported use as appropriate | 15 minutes

Fictional example: Rae notices more choice when a request is not rushed.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. Changing pace can reveal preferences and limits.

Practice task

Compare one short sentence spoken or read at two chosen speeds; use text-only comparison if speaking is uncomfortable.

1. My chosen or fictional situation, and what I know about it:

2. My response to the practice task above:

3. What pace supports useful contact for you?

4. An optional next step, support, adaptation, or reason to stop:

Scope and adaptation

Keep experiments collaborative and low intensity. Chair-based or unfinished-business exploration belongs with appropriately trained clinicians after assessment, with a stop cue and an observing alternative. Do not interpret symbols, recover memories, force body focus, or use cathartic confrontation.
