Contact Boundary Map - Review journal

Review an attempt at contact boundary map and choose what to keep, change, or leave aside.

Fictional example: Rae welcomes a conversation but does not want to share family details.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. Connection includes choosing how much contact fits.

Practice task

Map comfortable, uncertain, and unwanted contact in an ordinary interaction; identify a choice at each boundary.

1. What I tried, or what happened in the fictional example:

2. What I noticed before, during, and after; what remains uncertain:

3. What helped, did not help, or was outside my control:

4. Where would more choice improve this contact? My optional adjustment or support request:

Scope and adaptation

Keep experiments collaborative and low intensity. Chair-based or unfinished-business exploration belongs with appropriately trained clinicians after assessment, with a stop cue and an observing alternative. Do not interpret symbols, recover memories, force body focus, or use cathartic confrontation.
