Two-Chair Readiness - Practice worksheet

With a trained clinician, plan a brief dialogue about an ordinary decision using two cards or chairs; agree on a stop cue and an observing alternative before any practice.

Adults; supported use as appropriate | 15 minutes

Fictional example: Rae is curious about a volunteer role but does not want emotionally intense enactment.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. Experiential dialogue requires collaboration and an exit route.

Practice task

With a trained clinician, plan a brief dialogue about an ordinary decision using two cards or chairs; agree on a stop cue and an observing alternative before any practice.

1. My chosen or fictional situation, and what I know about it:

2. My response to the practice task above:

3. What conditions would make this experiment a genuine choice?

4. An optional next step, support, adaptation, or reason to stop:

Scope and adaptation

Keep experiments collaborative and low intensity. Chair-based or unfinished-business exploration belongs with appropriately trained clinicians after assessment, with a stop cue and an observing alternative. Do not interpret symbols, recover memories, force body focus, or use cathartic confrontation.
