Experiment by Consent - Practice worksheet

Design a reversible 30-second change in wording, seating preference, or pace and agree what to notice.

Adults; supported use as appropriate | 15 minutes

Fictional example: Rae tries asking a question more slowly in a fictional conversation.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. An experiment is an invitation to learn rather than a performance test.

Practice task

Design a reversible 30-second change in wording, seating preference, or pace and agree what to notice.

1. My chosen or fictional situation, and what I know about it:

2. My response to the practice task above:

3. What did you learn, including reasons not to repeat it?

4. An optional next step, support, adaptation, or reason to stop:

Scope and adaptation

Keep experiments collaborative and low intensity. Chair-based or unfinished-business exploration belongs with appropriately trained clinicians after assessment, with a stop cue and an observing alternative. Do not interpret symbols, recover memories, force body focus, or use cathartic confrontation.
