Awareness through Drawing - Review journal

Review an attempt at awareness through drawing and choose what to keep, change, or leave aside.

Fictional example: Rae draws a narrow doorway to describe a crowded schedule.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. A drawing is a way to notice, not a diagnostic symbol.

Practice task

Sketch the current situation using shapes and let the maker name what each shape means; revise any meaning that does not fit.

1. What I tried, or what happened in the fictional example:

2. What I noticed before, during, and after; what remains uncertain:

3. What helped, did not help, or was outside my control:

4. What does your image mean to you today? My optional adjustment or support request:

Scope and adaptation

Keep experiments collaborative and low intensity. Chair-based or unfinished-business exploration belongs with appropriately trained clinicians after assessment, with a stop cue and an observing alternative. Do not interpret symbols, recover memories, force body focus, or use cathartic confrontation.
