Closing the Experiment - Practice worksheet

Name what was noticed, what remains uncertain, and what should stay unfinished for now; orient to the room before leaving.

Adults; supported use as appropriate | 15 minutes

Fictional example: Rae ends an exercise with one observation and no homework commitment.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. Experiential work benefits from integration and return to the present.

Practice task

Name what was noticed, what remains uncertain, and what should stay unfinished for now; orient to the room before leaving.

1. My chosen or fictional situation, and what I know about it:

2. My response to the practice task above:

3. What would help you leave this exploration at a manageable point?

4. An optional next step, support, adaptation, or reason to stop:

Scope and adaptation

Keep experiments collaborative and low intensity. Chair-based or unfinished-business exploration belongs with appropriately trained clinicians after assessment, with a stop cue and an observing alternative. Do not interpret symbols, recover memories, force body focus, or use cathartic confrontation.
