Learning without a Failure Label - Learning Review Circle

You may write, draw, think quietly, use fiction, observe, or pass. Share only what you choose. This educational activity is not a test.

Fictional example: A fictional member says one event erased all progress.

1. What is known in the fictional example, and what needs checking?

2. Rewrite a global setback judgment as an accurate description and a support-oriented next question. My notes, drawing, or possible response:

3. What remains true about earlier learning and current needs?

4. One optional next step, support, or reason to revise the idea:

You can pause or stop. Ask your facilitator for an alternative if this does not fit. No identifying information belongs in shared copies. Independent clinical review pending.
