Recovery Myth Questions

Addiction Recovery | 30 minutes | 3-12 participants | Adults with appropriate facilitation

Purpose

Rewrite shame-based statements as curious questions about support and context.

Materials: Paper or a printable handout, Pens or an accessible writing alternative, Optional blank cards or simple drawing materials

Invite and agree - 3 minutes

Name the purpose and the right to pass, observe, write, or use fiction. Agree that people share only their own experiences and do not promise absolute group confidentiality.

Introduce the example - 3 minutes

A character hears that setbacks mean no commitment. Ask what is known and what is still a guess.

Practice: Guided discussion - 17 minutes

Rewrite shame-based statements as curious questions about support and context. Offer a quiet thinking minute before optional paired or whole-group discussion. Reflect differences without requiring agreement.

Reflect together - 4 minutes

What question opens a useful conversation? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and what would make the exercise more accessible. Do not interpret another person's response.

Choose a next step - 3 minutes

Invite one optional action, support request, or question to carry forward. Passing is a valid closing response. Confirm how to seek appropriate support outside the activity.

Facilitator fit and boundaries

Use fictional, low-intensity examples; do not recreate substance-use cues or give withdrawal or medication advice. Follow individualized care plans.

Offer observation, private writing, or a fictional example. Adapt instructions and group size to access needs. No client responses are collected by this page.
