Attention Anchor Tour

Anxiety & Stress | 20 minutes | 3-12 participants | Adults and teens 13+ with appropriate facilitation

Purpose

Offer an eyes-open tour of neutral details and let participants select or decline an anchor.

Materials: Paper or a printable handout, Pens or an accessible writing alternative, Optional blank cards or simple drawing materials

Invite and agree - 3 minutes

Name the purpose and the right to pass, observe, write, or use fiction. Agree that people share only their own experiences and do not promise absolute group confidentiality.

Introduce the example - 3 minutes

A person wants to refocus after a busy commute. Ask what is known and what is still a guess.

Practice: Choice-based noticing - 7 minutes

Offer an eyes-open tour of neutral details and let participants select or decline an anchor. Describe several optional ways to notice an ordinary detail. Invite participants to try, adapt, observe, or pass; do not require closed eyes or touch.

Reflect together - 4 minutes

Which detail is comfortable to notice? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and what would make the exercise more accessible. Do not interpret another person's response.

Choose a next step - 3 minutes

Invite one optional action, support request, or question to carry forward. Passing is a valid closing response. Confirm how to seek appropriate support outside the activity.

Facilitator fit and boundaries

Use ordinary concerns. Do not prescribe exposure or insist on internal or breathing-focused exercises.

Offer observation, private writing, or a fictional example. Adapt instructions and group size to access needs. No client responses are collected by this page.
