Reassurance Request Review

Anxiety & Stress | 30 minutes | 3-12 participants | Adults and teens 13+ with appropriate facilitation

Purpose

Explore what a request for reassurance is trying to provide and other kinds of support.

Materials: Paper or a printable handout, Pens or an accessible writing alternative, Optional blank cards or simple drawing materials

Invite and agree - 3 minutes

Name the purpose and the right to pass, observe, write, or use fiction. Agree that people share only their own experiences and do not promise absolute group confidentiality.

Introduce the example - 3 minutes

Someone asks repeatedly whether a friend is upset. Ask what is known and what is still a guess.

Practice: Guided discussion - 17 minutes

Explore what a request for reassurance is trying to provide and other kinds of support. Offer a quiet thinking minute before optional paired or whole-group discussion. Reflect differences without requiring agreement.

Reflect together - 4 minutes

What information or support is actually needed? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and what would make the exercise more accessible. Do not interpret another person's response.

Choose a next step - 3 minutes

Invite one optional action, support request, or question to carry forward. Passing is a valid closing response. Confirm how to seek appropriate support outside the activity.

Facilitator fit and boundaries

Use ordinary concerns. Do not prescribe exposure or insist on internal or breathing-focused exercises.

Offer observation, private writing, or a fictional example. Adapt instructions and group size to access needs. No client responses are collected by this page.
