Consent in Everyday Help

Communication & Boundaries | 30 minutes | 3-12 participants | Adults and teens 13+ with appropriate facilitation

Purpose

Ask before touching belongings, giving advice, or joining someone's activity.

Materials: Paper or a printable handout, Pens or an accessible writing alternative, Optional blank cards or simple drawing materials

Invite and agree - 3 minutes

Name the purpose and the right to pass, observe, write, or use fiction. Agree that people share only their own experiences and do not promise absolute group confidentiality.

Introduce the example - 3 minutes

A peer wants to help reorganize a workspace. Ask what is known and what is still a guess.

Practice: Skills rehearsal - 17 minutes

Ask before touching belongings, giving advice, or joining someone's activity. Model one short example. Invite a speaker, listener, or observer role; rehearse a low-stakes version and switch roles only by choice.

Reflect together - 4 minutes

What does permission look like here? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and what would make the exercise more accessible. Do not interpret another person's response.

Choose a next step - 3 minutes

Invite one optional action, support request, or question to carry forward. Passing is a valid closing response. Confirm how to seek appropriate support outside the activity.

Facilitator fit and boundaries

Practice with low-stakes examples. Consider power differences and safety; do not rehearse confronting an unsafe person.

Offer observation, private writing, or a fictional example. Adapt instructions and group size to access needs. No client responses are collected by this page.
