Invite and agree - 3 minutes

Name the purpose and the right to pass, observe, write, or use fiction. Agree that people share only their own experiences and do not promise absolute group confidentiality.

Introduce the example - 3 minutes

A family planning conversation becomes dominated by one voice. Ask what is known and what is still a guess.

Practice: Practice experiment - 7 minutes

Try optional timed listening turns with the ability to pass or stop. Agree on a short, reversible test and what to notice. Try or simulate it, then compare observations without scoring people.

Reflect together - 4 minutes

What helped people finish their thought? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and what would make the exercise more accessible. Do not interpret another person's response.

Choose a next step - 3 minutes

Invite one optional action, support request, or question to carry forward. Passing is a valid closing response. Confirm how to seek appropriate support outside the activity.

Facilitator fit and boundaries

Use fictional cooperative situations. Do not use joint role-play to address abuse, coercion, or safety concerns; arrange appropriate individual support.

Offer observation, private writing, or a fictional example. Adapt instructions and group size to access needs. No client responses are collected by this page.
