Two Rhythms of Grief

Grief & Resilience | 30 minutes | 3-12 participants | Adults with appropriate facilitation

Purpose

Notice times spent attending to loss and times spent on ordinary daily needs without prescribing a sequence.

Materials: Paper or a printable handout, Pens or an accessible writing alternative, Optional blank cards or simple drawing materials

Invite and agree - 3 minutes

Name the purpose and the right to pass, observe, write, or use fiction. Agree that people share only their own experiences and do not promise absolute group confidentiality.

Introduce the example - 3 minutes

A person alternates between sadness and daily tasks. Ask what is known and what is still a guess.

Practice: Mapping - 17 minutes

Notice times spent attending to loss and times spent on ordinary daily needs without prescribing a sequence. Create a simple diagram or table. Label relationships, gaps, or choices; participants decide which connections fit.

Reflect together - 4 minutes

What balance feels possible this week? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and what would make the exercise more accessible. Do not interpret another person's response.

Choose a next step - 3 minutes

Invite one optional action, support request, or question to carry forward. Passing is a valid closing response. Confirm how to seek appropriate support outside the activity.

Facilitator fit and boundaries

Allow privacy and passing. Do not prescribe grief stages, closure, forgiveness, spiritual meaning, or a growth lesson.

Offer observation, private writing, or a fictional example. Adapt instructions and group size to access needs. No client responses are collected by this page.
