Belonging Without Copying

You may write, draw, think quietly, use fiction, or pass. Share only what you choose. This is an educational practice activity, not an assessment.

An optional fictional starting point

A young person enjoys something different from their peers.

1. Choose an ordinary or fictional example. You may keep details private.

2. Try this task: Explore ways to join a group without giving up an important preference.

3. What kind of invitation would include them?

4. One optional next step, support request, or question I want to carry forward.

You can pause or stop. Ask your facilitator for an alternative if this activity does not fit. Keep identifying details out of any shared copy.
