Trust through Observable Actions - Session activity

Facilitate a structured practice of trust through observable actions with preparation, reflection, and an agreed closing.

Mental health professionals | 30 minutes

Fictional example: Quinn agrees to communicate a relevant plan change at an agreed time.

0-5 min | Agree on purpose and fit

Explain the educational scope. Ask what would be useful, check readiness and access needs, and establish choices to observe, adapt, or pass. Use an ordinary example; do not solicit trauma narratives.

5-10 min | Orient with an example

Trust cannot be demanded and may be influenced by consistent behavior over time. Fictional example: Quinn agrees to communicate a relevant plan change at an agreed time. Ask what is observed and what remains uncertain.

10-20 min | Practice and compare

Identify one realistic commitment, how it can be observed without surveillance, and what happens if it is not kept. Offer quiet individual work, a supported conversation, or an observing role. Compare two possible responses without evaluating people as right or wrong.

20-25 min | Reflect on meaning

What action can be offered without claiming it guarantees trust? Ask what fit, what did not fit, and how culture, power, disability access, or external conditions affect the options.

25-30 min | Integrate and close

Invite one optional next step or support request. Orient to the current setting, allow an unfinished question to remain unfinished, and agree how to revisit it. End early or adapt if activation increases.

Adaptations

For a group, use fiction and no compulsory round-robin disclosure. For remote use, allow off-camera reflection and private notes. For brief use, keep one example and one question while retaining opening and closing choices.

Reflection

What adaptation or follow-up is needed?

Scope and adaptation

Joint work requires private assessment of coercion, violence, fear, and retaliation. Do not require graphic disclosure, passwords, surveillance, reconciliation, forgiveness, or sexual contact. Accountability for deception is not assigned to the hurt partner. Support individual agency and appropriate medical, legal, or safety consultation without using this worksheet as professional advice.
