Rehearse a brief decline, an exit line, and an alternative plan for a low-stakes invitation.

Adults; supported use as appropriate | 15 minutes

Fictional example: Jordan is invited to an event where returning to use feels more likely.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. A refusal works best when it includes a realistic way to leave or get support.

Practice task

Rehearse a brief decline, an exit line, and an alternative plan for a low-stakes invitation.

1. My chosen or fictional situation, and what I know about it:

2. My response to the practice task above:

3. What makes leaving feasible rather than just a sentence on paper?

4. An optional next step, support, adaptation, or reason to stop:

Scope and adaptation

Adapt to individualized assessment and the person's chosen recovery goals. Worksheets do not manage intoxication, overdose, or withdrawal. Abrupt cessation of alcohol or benzodiazepines can be dangerous: seek medical guidance rather than using a worksheet to stop or taper. Follow existing emergency and overdose-prevention plans; medication choices belong with qualified prescribers.
