Fictional example: Jordan tries ten minutes of drawing and is unsure whether it helps.

Use an ordinary or fictional example, with a clinician when appropriate. Pleasure can be explored without demanding immediate enjoyment.

Practice task

Plan a small accessible activity and notice its actual effect, including a neutral response.

1. My chosen or fictional situation, and what I know about it:

2. My response to the practice task above:

3. What is worth trying again, changing, or setting aside?

4. An optional next step, support, adaptation, or reason to stop:

Scope and adaptation

Adapt to individualized assessment and the person's chosen recovery goals. Worksheets do not manage intoxication, overdose, or withdrawal. Abrupt cessation of alcohol or benzodiazepines can be dangerous: seek medical guidance rather than using a worksheet to stop or taper. Follow existing emergency and overdose-prevention plans; medication choices belong with qualified prescribers.
